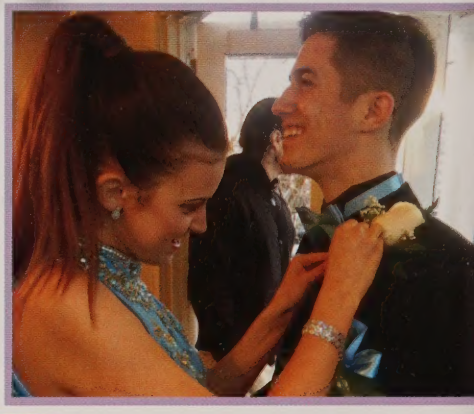
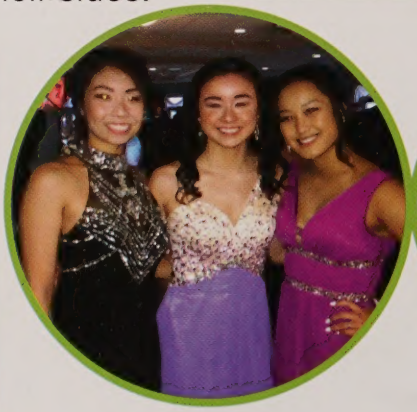
Our Night's Story

Junior prom night was an excitement filled evening. Every lady in their elegant dresses, and each gentleman in their suit and ties. The night kicked off with small talk, little dancing and a delicious dinner. The night soon shifted to loud laughter, dancing and fun pictures. Every guest enjoyed their time with their dates on their arms or friends by their sides.





Left Photo - Friends Antonio Vega & Nashalee Lopez Posing for a photo.

A Satisfying Victory A home and home series with rival North Quincy produced the team's first victory 242 to 256 with O'Leary, Pugsley and McBride shooting 41's and Sophomore Dan O'Leary and Tierney shooting a 42.

Prologue

The opener on the schedule was Plymouth South at Quincy's home course, Furnace Brook Golf Club and while the Panthers prevailed, the coach was pleased with the 37 shot by O'Leary and 38 by Tervakoski on the nine-hole course. The team total of 247 for the top six QHS golfers gave the coach reason to believe victory was in the near future.

However, losses to powerhouse teams in the next five matches (Hingham, Hanover, Silver Lake, Duxbury and Scituate) had the team and coach reeling.

"Eoin really worked hard on his game this past summer, so I was excited to see if we could compete this season. We had a nice turnout from the freshman class and close to 25 kids overall and I was able to keep all of them as members of the team", commented 12th year Coach Lou Venturelli.

THE STORY GOES ON... A home and home series with rival North Quincy produced the team's first victory 242 to 256 with O'Leary, Pugsley and McBride shooting 41's and Sophomore Dan O'Leary and Tierney shooting a 42. The excitement was short-lived however, as North Quincy came back the next day to defeat the Presidents 241 to 244 at Presidents Golf Course. Tervakoski shot 38 and Tierney carded a 39 to lead Quincy.

Leading the way for the Presidents was Senior Co-Captain Mike Tervaskoski with a one-over par 36, followed closely by his senior teammates Co-Captain James O'Leary, Eoin Tierney and Tom Pugsley who all carded a 39. Senior Shamus McBride chipped in with a 42 and Sophomore Dan O'Leary rounded out the top 6 scoring with a 44.

About the Season

What this year's volleyball team lacked in height they made up for with heart. The team finished their regular season with a record of 17-3 .The girls played without excuses or regrets throughout the entire season. Coach Niosi was very proud of the way the girls carried themseves both on and off the court. She was so happy to have had the opportunity to work with all of them. In the tournament, the girls made it to the finals with wins over Needham HIgh School and King Phillip Regional High School.

The Cripple of Inishmaan

The show is a very challenging contemporary piece. The show revolves around a physically disabled boy and how society treats his dreams and aspirations. As a club we explored how societies have treated minority groups in the past. The cast and crew did a wonderful job putting up such a difficult production. The cast had to perform Irish Accents and maneuver on a rotating stage that would change scenery. Our theater company has grown rapidly due to the hard work and dedication of the Senior class over the last four years. They have provided our club with a solid foundation to continue making quality theatre for our school community.

--Thomas Ducette, Head of Drama

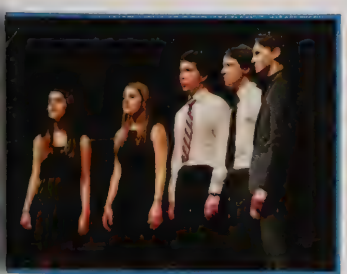
The Winter Concert

As the month of December approaches, so does a very important date for the Band and the Choir; every student is anxiously waiting for that momentus occasion. After several weeks of practice, trial and error, it is finally time for the Choir and Band to take the stage. As they stand before the crowd of family and friends, the Quincy High students sing their hearts our and play their instruments to the best of their ability. The Winter Concert brings friends, family, and loved ones for a single night to come and appreciate the talented performance that the students have spent so long to prepare.



Homecoming

Homecoming night was definately a night to remember. Everyone who went and was able to share in the experience will surely remember it for years to come. Everyone held and owned their own style with their flashy sequined dresses to their tidy suits. Everyone lit up the night.

PEP RALLY

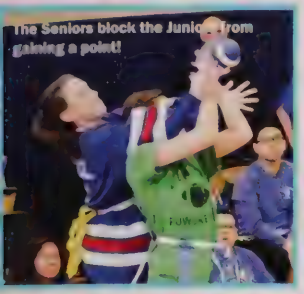
Thanksgiving is just around the corner, and Spirit Week is coming to an end, but before any of that, it's time for the Turkey Day Pep Rally! With all four grades gathered in the gymnasium, they cheer and shout to see who is the most spirited in the school! Showcasing every part of the school like the arts as the choir sings the National Anthem, or sports like Cheerleading and recognizing all of the sports teams, or the academic clubs like Academic Decathalon!

Our Rallies We'll Never Forget

Four years, four rallies. After three years of losing to the upperclassmen, (especially the Seniors!) we claim victory for our class! And when all is said and done, we'll leave school, but look back at the rallies and reminisce about all of the fun moments we shared as a class!

The Hosts

Flag Football



It's time for the yearly Pep Rally and excitement fills the air! The flag football game is one to never forget. Unlike previous years, it is Juniors versus Seniors (no teachers this time)!

The Juniors put up a solid defense and just barely stop the Seniors from making a score. Now it is the Seniors on defense. Everyone is on the edge of their seats. The Juniors pressure the Seniors, inching closer and closer to the goal. The Juniors throw the ball but the Seniors successfully block it! The Juniors jump around in an attempt to find an opening but they are running out of time! The clock is ticking to the very last seconds. The Juniors desperately throw the ball, but it is interupted by the Seniors! Although, as the ball falls to the ground, the Juniors swoop in underneath the Seniors and catch the ball with a single hand!

What an intense game! Sadly, the we lost, but we tried our best! Amazing job Seniors!

The Varsity Girls Volleyball Team Celebrates Their Victories this Season!

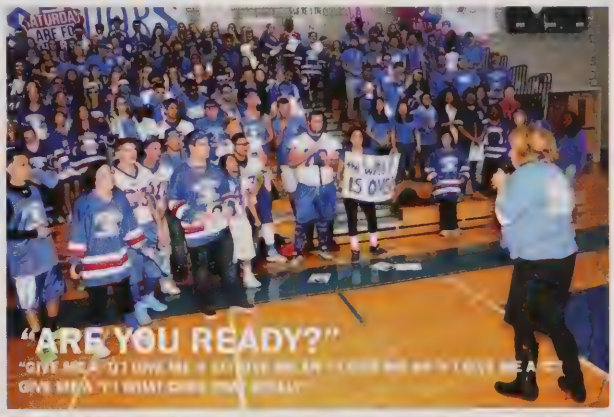
So much to see; so much to do! The Pep Rally is never not busy with the non-stop commotion and cheers from the crowd. From singing along with the Acapella Club, to traditional Irish stepdancing, to waving around photos of Mr. Tag in his golden years, there is never a dull moment during the Pep Rally!



Lost the Battle; Won the War

Though the Juniors won the Flag Football game by a fluke, the Seniors reigned victorious and won by a landslide in points! Nice job Seniors!

Huzzah!

The Seniors flood the floor as they cheer and shout in victory over their wins against the Freshmen, Sophmore, and Juniors! Let them know

For the very first time, the Acapela Club performs! Forget You by Ceelo Green.

The break dance crew make their return this year once again and put on a phenomenal performance!

Speech and Debate

The Quincy High Speech & Debate engages in monthly debates about relevant, student-chosen topics. Throughout the process of preparing for the debates, students hone the key rhetorical skills of forming arguments and anticipating counterpoints, the research skills of compiling and scrutinizing evidence, and the patience and intellectual maturity to grapple with serious issues in a civil, productive manner.

Yale Model UN

Quincy High School students prepare all year long for Harvard Model United Nations, which is a four-day international relations simulation for high school students held annually in downtown Boston. At HMUN, delegates gain insight into the workings of the United Nations and the dynamics of international relations by assuming the roles of UN representatives and members of other international bodies and national cabinets. HMUN is an exciting opportunity for students to debate issues that confront world leaders and to draft resolutions in response to these global issues. (as taken from HMUN's website).

Broadcasting

Whether they will be on or behind the camera, students in broadcasting really have the potential to go far in the industry. They get hands-on training with all the equipment that they will have to use later in life if they choose to pursue a career in broadcasting. They're in charge of the morning announcements, running the school channel, and many other little skits or side shows they wish to do. Mr. Green does a great job getting his students to prepare for their futures in the broadcasting field.

Business Tech

The Business Tech Majors at Quincy High School study a wide variety of business concepts. Students explore the day to day operations of business including customer service, telecommunications, finance, and legal, ethical, and community issues. In business tech, two students are exposed to marketing, management and accounting. During the final year of business tech, students apply all prior knowledge from previous years and make there own business plan. They also complete internships throughout the Quincy business community.

Culinary

The goal of our Culinary Arts program is to develop transferable workplace skills as well as specific practical skills. Students can enter the work force and/or continue their education as life long learners. Students are trained in cooking, baking, restaurant service, and management in a full-service on-site restaurant, exposing them to real world hospitality situations. Our students have the experience they need to give them the edge for admittance to culinary programs or getting a great start on a career.

Early Education

The Early Childhood concentration is a class in which students prepare themselves to work in places like preschools, nurseries, or as professional nannies. The members of ECE carry around the infamous "dummy" babies and learn how to deal with them day and night, inside and out. They then internship at different schools and places throughout Quincy, and often reunite with their old teachers in hopes of following in their footsteps.

Electrical

Electricity is something many people take for granted. They don't appreciate the complex wiring that's behind the walls that electricians work with. The students learn everything from making a light bulb light up to the more complex contraptions that people get nervous just looking at. Seniors can get certified by local IBEW 2222, Electrical Technology Program Certificate, and hours toward professional license.

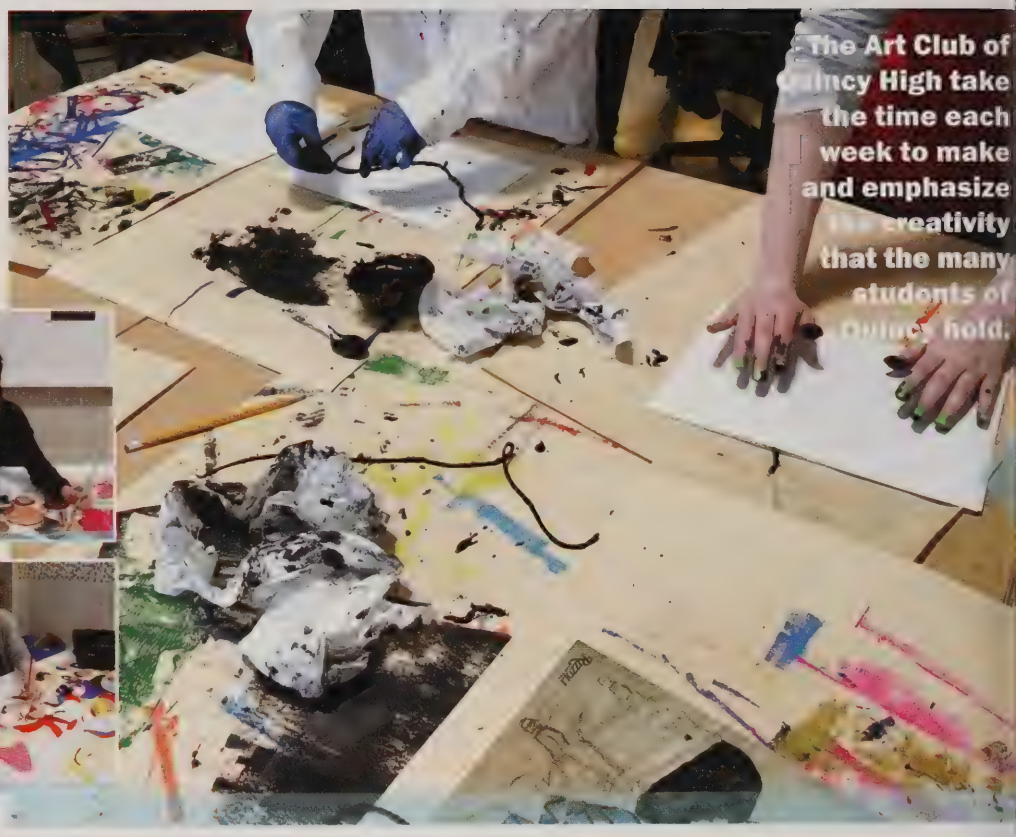
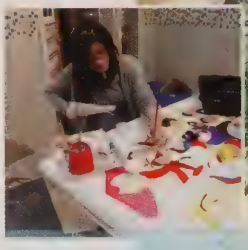
Art Club



The Art Club of Quincy High take the time each week to make and emphasize the creativity that the many students of Quincy hold.

The Various Colors of Quincy

Joanne Chung and Michelle He take their time between classes to create a piece for the cultural fair that would show the representation of communities coming and mixing together peacefully into one society.



Art United This 6 paneled tempera paint mural was created by over one hundred students in just under 4 days as a celebration of Youth Art Month. This piece took a series of many small steps sewn together by students who share a love for art. Problem solving, creativity, observation and communication were not only key to this project, but skills to be celebrated.

Boys Basketball

This is it; the climax of the game! Will our team score?

"The chemistry of the team is the number one key of rour success, we have no selfishness on the team and that is what leads to wins."

– Basketball Coach, Mr. Parry

"The Season So Far"

A few words with Mr. Parry about Progress and Team Performance

This year's roster was pretty diverse in that all grades joined. The team consisted of one Freshman, four Sophomores, five Juniors, and five Seniors.

Mr. Parry and the Boy's Basketball team have made huge progress this year such as winning the the Rockland Christmas Tournament and qualifying for the State Tournament!

The team has worked endlessly towards their goals, and their hard work has paid off!

Although the team has made great progress, their coach, Mr. Parry says they have a long ways to go:

> "I think the team has been performing well but I think we still have room for improvement and we are trying to get better each day."

He shoots!

Will he score?

On the Offensive

Throughout the game between Quincy High and Scituate, the team struggles to gain any significant lead in the intense back and forth match.

Sweet, Sweet Victory

Although Scituate proved to be a difficult obstacle to overcome, we take the win with a 60-58! A close match between the two and a job well done to the boy's basketball team!

Q&A with Mr. Parry

How did you feel about the performance of the team?

I think the team has been performing well but I think we still have room for improvement and we are trying to get better each day.

Was there any particular troubles your team ran into when improving?

Attempting to keep the teams focus and work ethic up every day is always a challenge, but this group has relished all of our the challenges.

What would you do to improve for next year?

Continue to work hard on individual fundamental skills, while playing together as a team in the off-season to develop and improve the team chemistry.

"The senior leadership from the captains has been very good, they have been setting some good examples for the rest of the team and all of their peers."

Behind the Scenes with the basketball team as Mr. Parry and the students formulate their strategy!

Gone But Not Forgoten - Bob McGillicuddy

Coach Bob was the heart and soul of the Quincy North Quincy swimming and diving program. If you looked around the Lincoln Hancock pool, Bob was everywhere. From the lane lines, to the boards. Bob celebrated each accoplishment of each individual swimmer. He will remain in the hearts of the 2016-17 swimming and diving team as a beloved coach, teacher, and friend. Bob wanted us to always remember to "laugh, not cry." He would be so proud of each and every one of you for all of your accomplishments in and out of the pool.

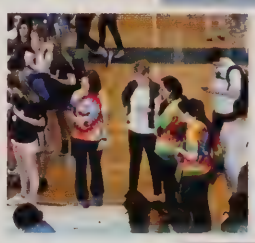
Cultural Fair

The Point of The Handprints:

Many of the students decided to make a handprint on the culture fair banner to symbolize how although we all come from different cultures and have different customs, we can join together in unity under the common virtues we share.

Seniors running the Nordic Countries table, representing Scandinavian and nordic culture.



The attendants are spread out visiting tables and taking an interest in the many different cultures involved in the fair.

There were a few activities at the culture fair, including tasting new food for the first time, making a handprint on a banner, and trying new types of games.

The culture fair is a gathering that celebrates the many aspects of different culture through selling the food of those respective cultures, decorating the gym to correlate with the cultures involved, and having activities originated from other cultures.

The culture fair was a definite success this time. Many people bought the food available and participated in and learned a bit about the cultures present.

The staff participating and joining in on the cultural festivities and attractions.

About the season

The boys had a little bit of a rocky start adjusting to each other with 7 seniors leaving from the previous year. The boys ended their season with a strong finish, playing against some very tough teams. This group of seniors helped to remold the boys' volleyball program to set goals for themselves and have high expectations. Even though they came up short of qualifying for tournament, the effort was there! They competed against some elite programs, learned and improved in the process.

Season

Quincy High School Softball is a hard working group of girls! This season was a great improvement from last year. The team has battled all season! No matter what the outcome, they always got back up and were ready to take on the next challenge. This group of girls always has a smile on their face and has each other's back. We are going to miss the seniors but we know they are off to do great things in this world. - Coach Greg Sommers

"Every year, it never gets easier, our team just gets better"

– Lacrosse Coach, Ms. Arakelian

The Quincy girls had a fun season, led by senior captains Maeve Hernon, Julia Silverman, and Lauren Gardener. Julia had a great year in net for us, showing up in games when we really needed her to. Maeve was always there as a leader for the team this year, even when she couldn't play. Lauren was also right there cheering on the team, even with her injuries this season.

The underclassmen for the team were also a huge part of the year. The girls had a big win against North Quincy to end off the season, overcoming a three-goal deficit to win the game 11-10! Good job girls!

The boys had a good year. All the seniors showed up big for the team this year. Shamus McBride was a big part of our success, as was Thomas Pugsley. Eoin was a huge help this year and a crucial key to the team's leadership. The underclassmen after this year will have big shoes to fill when the seniors leave at the end of the season.

Cold, Wet, Exciting

Veterans of the sport and newcomers share an equally great time.

Being on the sea is the dream of many pirates, retirees, and funnily enough, high school students. This collaboration of efforts between Quincy High School and North Quincy High School shows a dedication of the sport through harsh conditions. A bond is formed through veterans of the sport, Liam Sheedy and Terry McMillen and newcomers including Ty Kehoe, Alexander Ireland, Riley O'Connor, Kate Anderson, and Jonathan Tan. The competitive nature of the sport over comes any feeling of the cold of the sea breeze.

> "We improved throughout the season and had a strong showing at our league and state championships."

– Track Coach, Mr. Hennessey

Nathan Sleiman takes the lead in the 110m high hurdle

Track and field isn't as easy as most expect. You really have to train and work hard to meet the mark. Quincy and North Quincy High School both share the track and although they are relatively small in numbers, they are still able to hold their own to other teams. They are able to overcome adversity, no matter who it comes from. Another great thing about the track team is how diverse it is.

All kinds of athletes from different backgrounds are able to feel equal to one another. Diversity is key in teamwork and equality.

> "The best thing about our program is we are diverse culturally, academically and otherwise."

This Year's Competition

Throughout the year's tennis matches, tennis has not been kind to Quincy High's tennis kids. Since the start of the season in April, one-sided loses were frequent on both boy's and girl's sides, which impacted the students greatly. Although the losses have been tough, the tennis kids know how to remain positive despite it all.

When asked about how the year went for Boy's Tennis, Mr. Columb started off by jokingly adding that:

"Over the course of the season, the team increases [illegible] by [illegible] string."

Teamwork

Through and through, working together as a team is one of the primary goals of getting better at tennis, not just through individual skill. Supporting each other through coordination, focus, or just cheering them on improves the ties between tennis members. After matches, whether or not it was won, just trying can often be enough.

Tennis can often dwindle down to competing seriously with other schools, with an "in it to win it" type of attitude, but many times, Quincy High's tennis team just wants to have fun!

Sportsmanship

Win or loss, Mrs. Matthews encourages sportsmanship always and at the end of a hardfought match the opponents shake hands with the each other as a sign of good intentions.

Although in this photo we lost to North Quincy's tennis team, Jane Kuang can still deliver a smile as she congratulates them.

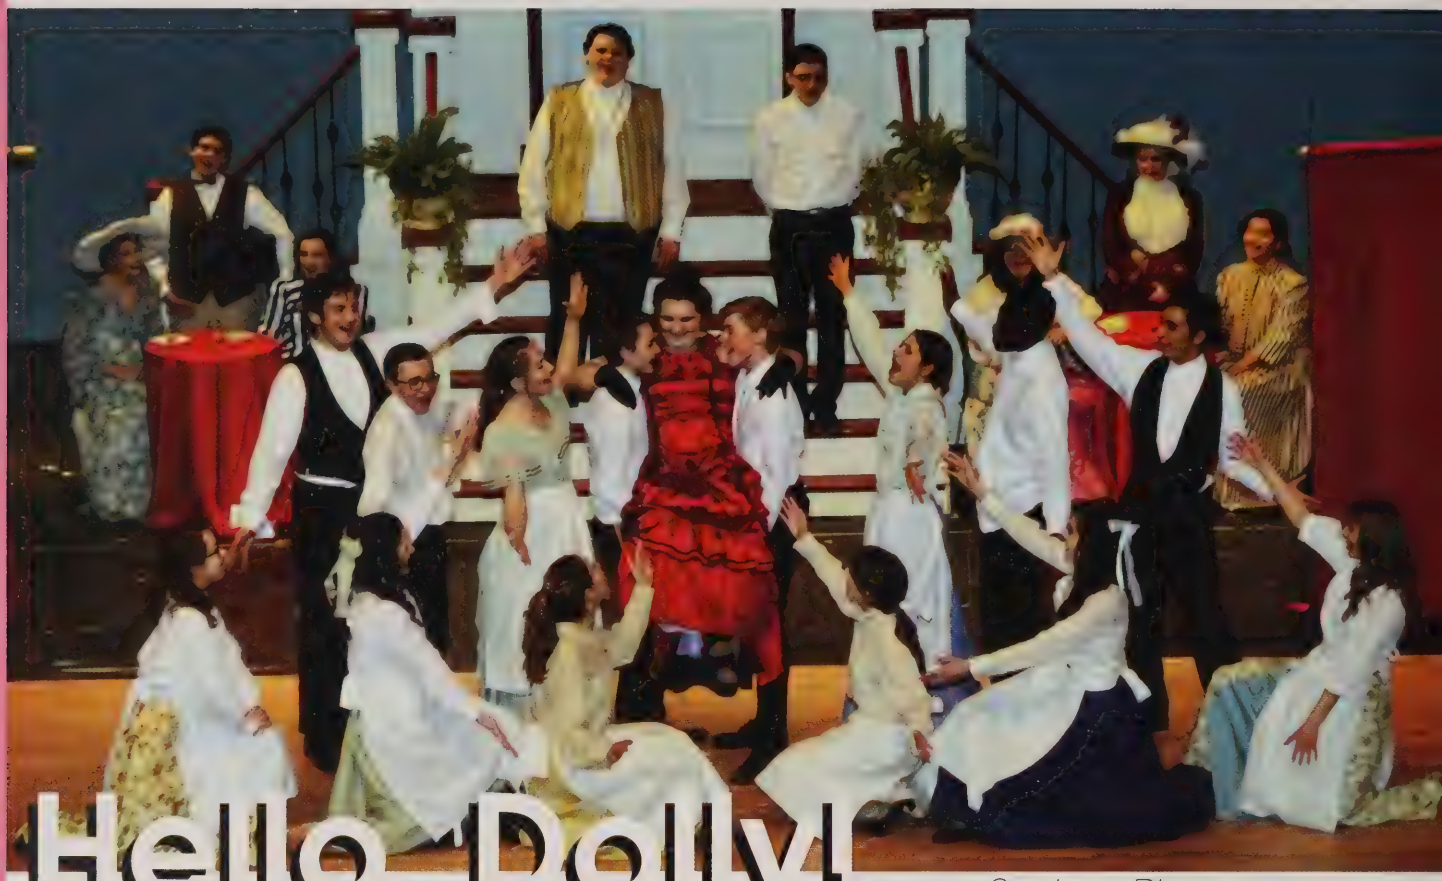
About the Season

The season ended with a record of 4-18 and athough their were only four wins in the season the boys gave it their all and practiced everyday. The boys never gave up and always kept their President's Pride! The five senior boys will be missed next year when they take off for their future plans!



Hello, Dolly!

Spring Play

Mrs. Spencer and the students of Drama are back with another show to share with the school! This time, the kids performed Broadway's Hello, Dolly!, a 1946 play based on the written book by Michael Stewart. Hello Dolly! takes place in New York City and stars a life-loving woman, Dolly Gallagher Levi, who makes a living as a matchmaker to help others find true love.

Colleen Craig

"I have always loved singing but was way too shy too perform. I went to the audition last year and really loved it," Craig said. "I went from not talking in class to being able to make it through a whole show."

A Play to Remember

Colleen Craig, a senior participates in her second play. Although Craig was very quiet in class at first, she opened up, and landed herself the lead role in Hello, Dolly!

Since the spring play had a ton of female actresses, Hello, Dolly! was chosen to allow more roles to be filled and have greater representation of all students who tried out.

Throughout the preparation, more than 100 students and staff dedicated their time practicing and perfecting the play for the school to see. Hello, Dolly! was a huge success and it is because of the students and staff who made it all possible!

Choreography

During practice, it was difficult for Alexandra to create dances to propperly reflect the time period and that everyone could perform. Although, with some research and hard work from all of the performers, the dancing was successful!

"I do a lot of hip-hop and jazz myself, so for this show I had to do a lot of research on the dance and the movement of the time period," MacPherson said. "There are moments that it's hard. I've had to change some things so everyone could do them, but everyone is so committed."

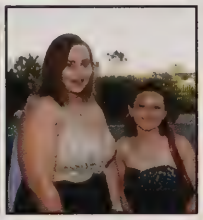
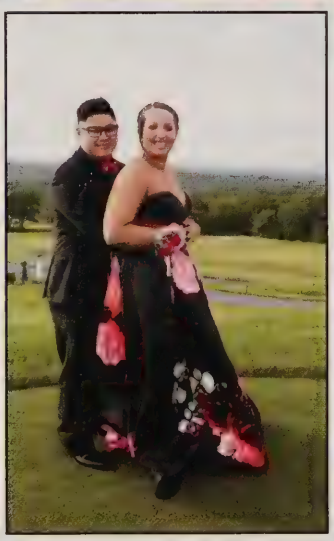
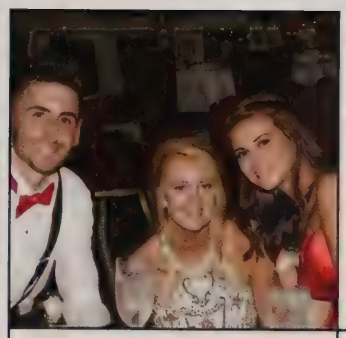
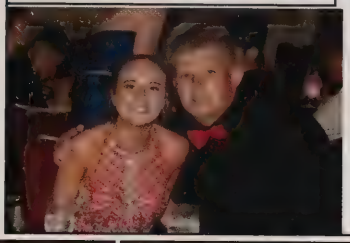
Senior Prom

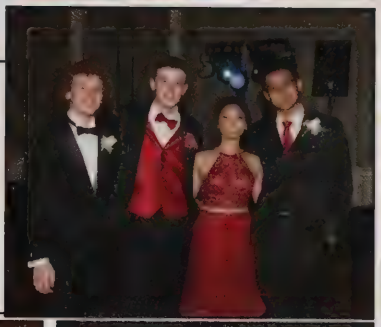


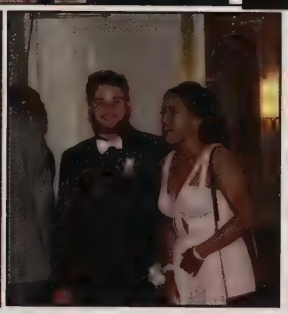


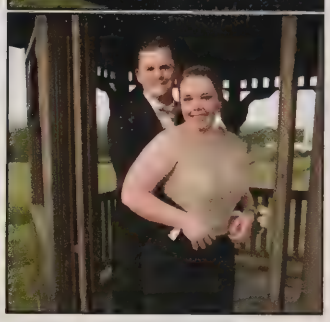
The class of 2017 all got together for one last time before graduation on June 9, 2017 at the Boston Marriot in Quincy for senior prom. This would fo sure be a night to remember with food, dancing, and everyone's best attire.

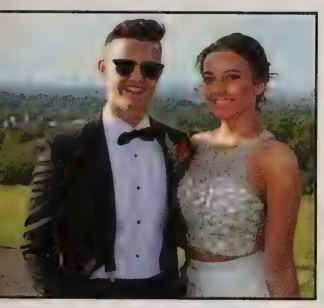


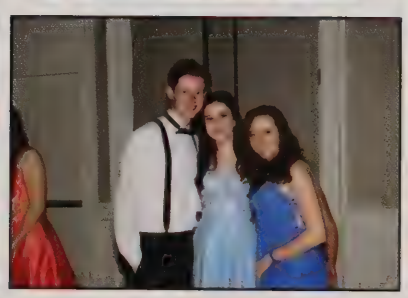


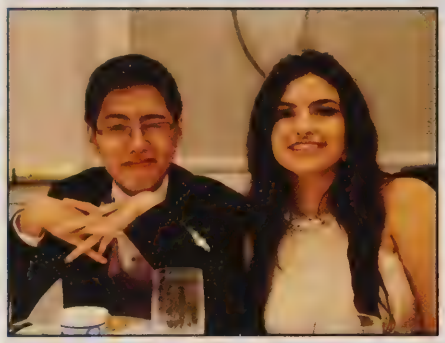


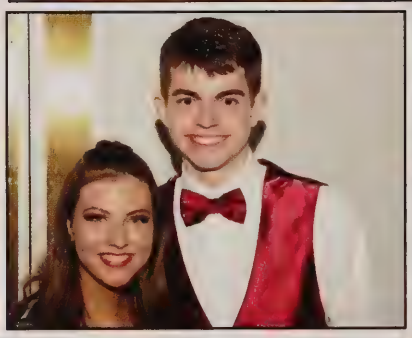


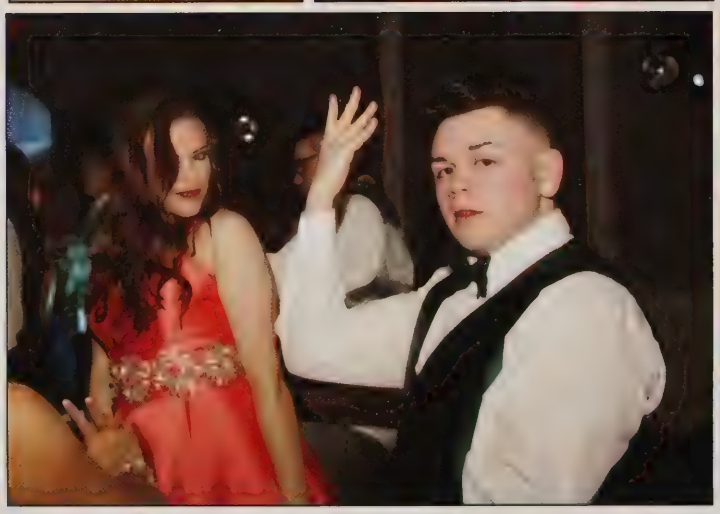


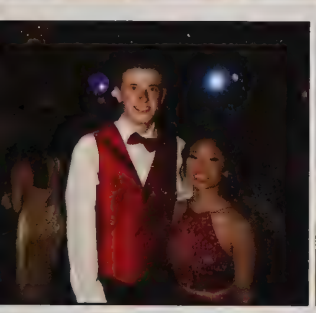


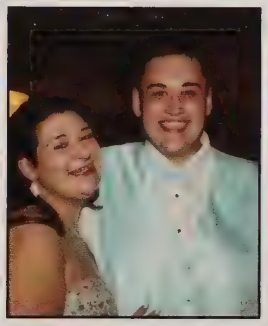






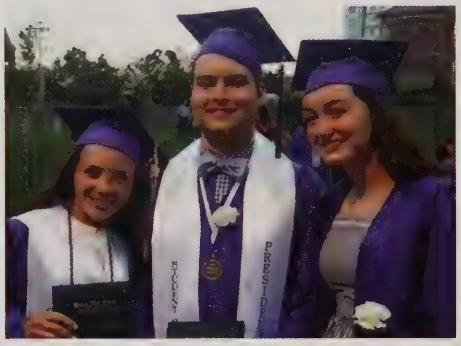


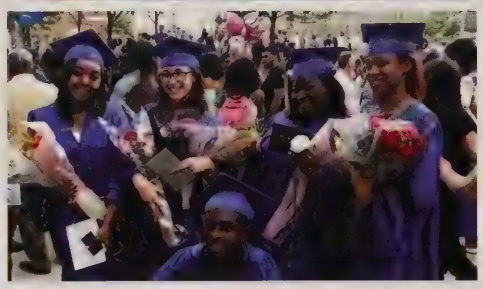


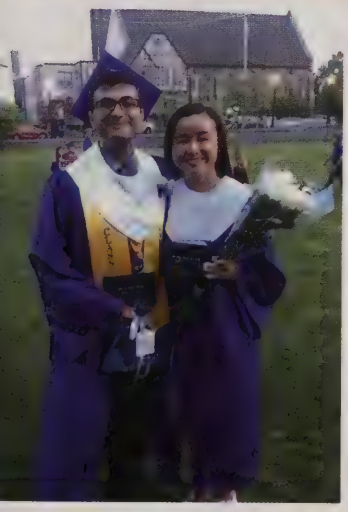


Graduation

Class of 2017







2017 On June 13th, 2017, Quincy High's Class of 2017 graduates began their transition toward their next amazing journey. Phones and cameras were up as graduates take their last picture with some of their high school friends. The Class of 2017 began crossing the bridge and grabbing our diploma with our left hand, while shaking Mr. Tag's hand with our right, this is the start of something new.

@LawrenceTaglieri

To the Class of 2017

It is with great joy that I celebrate the achievements of the Class of 2017. We started our voyage together four years ago and over this time you have shown your great understanding of the value of education and achieved at the highest levels. You have embraced all that Quincy High School has to offer, made this school your home, and have been a model for our underclassmen. You have each left your mark and many of the initiatives you have started will remain for years to come. There are so many reasons to be proud. It has been my pleasure to be a part of your education; my best to all of you in all of your future endeavors.

@EllenMurray

Class of 2017 you have come so far and it's exciting to think about how far you will go. Envision the life you want and go for it because over the last four years you have proven that you are hardworking, insightful, inclusive and brave. Continue to let your confidence grow and remember, from the words of an unknown author, "You are your only limit."

@EllenSullivan

Farewell Class of 2107! I will miss you - please come by to say hello every now and then and remember, graduation is the beginning of anything you want !! XXOO Mrs. Sullivan
